LUMBER INDUSTRY SEES IMPROVED BUSINESS

Convention Optimistic Over Prospects of Greater Activity This Year.

[By Associated Press.]
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 28.—Optimism over prospects of greater business activity in the lumber industry during the current year featured the addresses delivered at the opening session of the seventh annual convention of the Southern Pine Association here today. The convention will continue through tomorrow.

J. M. Hollowell, of Elizabeth, La., vice-president of the association, presided at today's meeting in the absence of President D. S. Gardner, who is in Europe. In his address opening the convention, Mr. Hollowell declared that the business of the nation now seems to be coming out of the shadow and predicted that it would improve steadily. He urged the lumbermen to take more active interest in legislative matters, forestry and in business and industrial affairs of the country.

J. B. Rhodes, of New Orleans, secretary-manager of the association, read his annual report, calling attention of the Southern pine manufacturers to many questions of importance to the lumber industry, and also sounding an optimistic note concerning its economic condition.

Judge John P. Lucas, of Kansas City, chief counsel of the association, in presenting a report on the status of the Department of Justice a year ago, against the association, expressed the belief that it would be amicably settled.

Edward Hines, of Chicago, urged the importance of action by the association to protect the public against deception and fraud in grades and measure in the purchase of lumber from dishonest dealers.

Among others who delivered addresses today were John H. Kirby, Houston, Texas, president National Lumber Manufacturers' Association; and president of the Southern Tariff Association; General L. C. Boyle, Washington, D. C.; Frank Schoplin, Kansas City; J. W. Martin, Shreveport, La.; F. H. Farrell, Orange, Texas; Ben S. Woodhead, Beaumont, Texas.

Exide BATTERIES

Reading in a berth

Did you do much traveling a generation ago? If you did, you recall that there were no lights in the berths of the sleeping cars. Next time you turn the switch and settle down to read in your berth, vote a little thanks to storage batteries, which made electric light possible on railway trains. The current generated from the axle of the moving car is stored for use by Exide Batteries on many of the country's leading railroads.

Every time your foot touches the starting-pedal of an automobile you are paying unconscious tribute to Exide Batteries. The first automobile with standard starting and lighting equipment had an Exide Battery. That same fine car has used the Exide ever since. More automobiles leave the manufacturers' hands equipped with Exides than with any other battery.

If ever there was a product where experience counts, it is a storage battery. Built into the Exide is the experience of the oldest and largest manufacturers of storage batteries in the world.

The Exide, made for your car, is a real battery for real service. It is rugged and long-lasting. You will find it a comfort and an economy.
